Chicago People Scared Over a Supposed Case of Cholera—Kept from Jefferson Davis—General News Notes.

Army Officers Greatly Exercised.

WASHINGTON, Aug. [illegible].—There is going to be a funny fight in army circles when Sheridan comes to Washington. It is said at the war department that Schofield, who is now at the head of the department of the Pacific, and Pope, who is at the head of the department of the Missouri, under Sheridan, will both try to stay where they are. Neither of them wants to remove to Chicago. Schofield is one of the biggest men socially on the Pacific slope, and Pope is the king bee in Kansas and Missouri. Neither could cut a very wide swath in Chicago for a long time, and neither cares to go there for that reason. Hancock is out of the fight apparently, nobody showing a disposition to disturb him. Sheridan will not come here until the 1st of October, but the fight against removal to Chicago will begin several weeks before that date. Entering upon another branch of the subject a war department man said: "Carpet knights who have been attached to Sherman and who have been stationed here for several years are greatly disturbed by reason of the impending change. Several of them have been in Washington for years drawing colonel's pay, when in fact they are captains, and they dislike very much to go back to their regiments. They are socially at home here, and they draw $5000 a year. They do not contemplate with equanimity a reduction to $1700 and banishment to the frontier. Sheridan will probably bring his staff from Chicago, and although it is probable that several of Sherman's clerks will be taken care of, there are several who will have to resume their proper rank and places in the field."

Thought They Had the Cholera.

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—There was a sensation on west Lake street to-day. Seven persons in a boarding house at No. [illegible] ate of ice cream, watermelon, green peas and roast veal, and all were seized with [illegible] cramps. The report got started that it was cholera, and a general stampede from the neighborhood resulted. The health commissioners examined the premises, which were pronounced in good sanitary condition, and gave the opinion that the sickness was a very severe case of stomach-ache, the result of eating one of the articles mentioned, it is unknown which one.

Run Upon a Bank.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—The Commercial Advertiser says there is a big run on the Second National bank of Elmira, in consequence of its president, E. R. Pratt, saying he lost $[illegible]0,000 in pork speculation. The bank is believed to have been solvent, and says the president is able to stand a loss of $150,000 or $200,000.

ELMIRA, N. Y. Aug. [illegible].—There was some anxiety in business circles yesterday morning on account of rumors as to the soundness of the Second National bank, caused by rumors by speculators that its president was embarrassed. When it was ascertained [illegible]

THE GREAT [illegible]

Only a Few Railroad T[illegible] [illegible] Out.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—It trans[pired to-]night that the order for a strike to the [illegible] Chicago and Alton road was actually [issued] to-day, and a copy of the official [order, sign]ed by Master Workman Campbell of [illegible] and Master Workman Morris of Chicago, [was pub]lished in the morning. It recites [illegible] to the effect that the roads discharged operators [who refus]ed to send Western Union business [illegible] demands which the brotherhood made [upon the com]pany, and its refusal to comply with [illegible], and concludes with instructions to all members of the brotherhood in its employ to quit work at [illegible] August 6, 1883. It appears that this [illegible] multiplied by an electric pen in New York [and sent] out by mail in sufficient numbers to be [sent to] one to each operator in the employ of the [company]. The copies were sent to Chicago for distribution after Chicago date of the 5th to all operators [on the roa]d north of Bloomington, Illinois; that [others were] sent to St. Louis for distribution, [illegible] date, and with the signature of the local [officers, f]or operators on the road as far north as [illegible]. By some mischance, however, the [copies] did not arrive in time, hence the [operators] continued at their desks. Brotherhood [men say to]night, that the orders are now being distrib[uted to the] offices of the company in this city; that [they] will be sent down the line to Bloomington [illegible] copies, and that the strike will begin [to]morrow morning. They claim the men on the [other] divisions of the Alton and Wabash struck. They also claim that the Wabash men [illegible] to-night, and that seven out of [illegible] [ha]ve quit work. The statement cannot be con[firmed at] this hour.

THE LOCOMOTIVE [illegible]

CLEVELAND, [illegible], Aug. 7.—[illegible] publishes an interview in which P. [illegible] chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive [Engineers], says: "Our brotherhood has no connection [with] any other labor movement. We have [illegible] our own canoe for twenty [years], and I hope we shall always continue to do so. The statement that we are [in the st]rike was made without authority, and [has no] foundation in fact. We have [illegible], and [no] notion of leaving our posts. [If the] railroad operators should go out it would [make] no difference to us. Trains were run [before] the telegraph was used, and, if necessary, could [be] done again. If there was danger of a [illegible] or other accident the railroad authorities would [not] permit trains to run, hence it would not be [necessary] for us to refuse to go, knowing as we do [that] employers would not order us to do so. We [are satisfied] with our own conditions and the strikes [of other org]anizations do not affect us. Great pressure [is] brought upon us to commit ourselves with labor unions, but we have always refused to [have anyt]hing to do with them."

A NEW [illegible]

BALTIMORE, Aug. 7.—[illegible] the main office of the Baltimore and Ohio [Telegraph] company make the following statement: [illegible] at Camden station quit work to-day. [illegible] remained." Gov. Crittenden Denies Ford's Story.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 7.—Governor Crittenden, in an interview with a reporter, emphatically denied the truth of the statement telegraphed here from Kansas City that he had promised a reward to Bob Ford, of the famous Ford brothers, of $40,000, if the latter brought in Jesse James alive, or $10,000 if dead. He states that he did not know Charlie Ford or the other brother had any connection with the Blue Cut robbery until after the deed was perpetrated and the James gang was broken up. He denies having offered any protection to Charlie Ford. He says that Bob came to see him several times, but he refused to make any arrangement further than announced in the proclamation offering $10,000 for the arrest and conviction of each of the James boys. Judge Phillips, attorney of the James boys, at present visiting this city, declined to say anything on the subject.

Well Pleased With Riordan's Appointment.

Interviews with a number of Catholic priests of this city relative to the appointment of Father Riordan of Chicago, as coadjutor to Archbishop Alemany of this district, show that the priests unanimously favor Riordan's appointment, believing it to be the best that could be made, as he is a good financier, one who will know how to supplant the present poor church buildings by more suitable edifices, and clear off the enormous debt. It is well known that two of the oldest bishops on the coast strongly oppose Father Riordan's appointment, but the priests express the hope that their influence will not prevail at Rome.

Severe Accident on the Southern Pacific.

An accident on the Southern Pacific railroad, near Lancaster, seventy-six miles from Los Angeles, has just been reported. It seems the train stopped as usual at Lancaster, and the engine went ahead to switch, leaving the freight cars on a heavy grade. The brakes gave way, and as at Tehachapi, the engine started on the down run toward the passenger car, filled with people, striking it with such force as to knock every one out of their seats, bruising many. One passenger, Mr. Ryan, is believed to be fatally injured. It is said that the train hands were unfit for work, having been up all the preceding night at a ball in Mojave.

SULLIVAN AND SLADE.

Description of their Contest with Soft Gloves—The Maori Completely Knocked Out.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—The boxing match between John L. Sullivan of Boston and Herbert A. Slade, the Maori, came off this evening in Madison square, and resulted in Slade being knocked out in the third round. Between 10,000 and 12,000 people had assembled in the garden. About 11[illegible] policemen preserved order in the garden, and many more officers were outside. People flocked to the building as early as 6 o'clock, two hours before the opening of the doors, in order that they might secure a good position to see the match. No seating room could be had in the building at 8 o'clock, and standing room was at a premium. A platform was erected in the middle of the building, and on this was the ring, twenty-four feet in length and breadth. The receipts of the affair are thought to be about $16,000, of which the Maori gets 40 per cent.

SULLIVAN THE FAVORITE.

The general opinion was that Sullivan would come off victorious in the match, then some thought Slade would give him more trouble than any of his previous antagonists. Bets were made early in the evening of five to one in Sullivan's favor, and three to one that he would knock Slade out in two rounds. All classes of society were represented. Soon after 8 o'clock the sport began. There were a number of sparring contests between men famous with the gloves, yet these excited little interest, and seemed not to command much attention. At length the master of ceremonies announced amid shouts and yells that the event of the evening—the match between Sullivan and Slade—was in order. The Boston boy was the first to make his appearance through a lane opened in the crowd with some difficulty by the police. He mounted the platform and stepped between the ropes, which were considerably higher than in former matches in the garden. Sullivan was attired in a white undershirt, flesh-colored tights, white stockings and black gaiters.

SLADE ON THE PLATFORM.

Slade soon followed Sullivan. He was a much heavier-looking man than Sullivan, but his movements were more awkward, compared with those of the Boston champion. The Maori wore a white shirt, white tights and black gaiters, with low white socks. They took seats in opposite corners. A number of sporting friends and backers crowded around Sullivan, while Jem Mace was at the back of Slade. Jack Davis was named time keeper, and Barney Aaron referee. The announcement was made that there was to be no wrestling, and that the contestants must obey at once when the referee told them to break. Time was called, and the men approached and shook hands. Both had removed their undershirts. Sullivan's flesh looked hard and firm, and he appeared in good condition. Slade looked larger than Sullivan, and heavier, but his flesh had a soft appearance. Slade's face wore an anxious appearance, while Sullivan's had a contented look. After cautious sparring of a few seconds, Sullivan delivered the first blow squarely on Slade's countenance, following it by another on the neck, and driving him into his corner.

SULLIVAN IN [illegible].

In the second round Sullivan has Slade all around the ring, knocking him down [illegible]. Joe Goss shouted to Sullivan, "Hit him in the belly, John!

WEDNESDAY MORNING, AUG. 6, 1883.

A SIGNIFICANT RESULT.

Though "Rose Mahonism" is as bitterly opposed, and denounced in Virginia as ever it is evident that he has accomplished a great deal, since he has at last brought the "regular" democracy of his state squarely upon his own platform. The main principles or avowed purposes of the Mahone party have been the readjustment of the state debt by "scaling" it about one-third, in consequence of the separation of West Virginia from the old state, and an improved public school system for both races. These purposes, hitherto opposed by the regular democracy, have now been distinctly accepted by them in their platform of this year. It is evident that remarkable changes are taking place in the Old Dominion.

The readjuster plan of settling the state debt has always been denounced by many as a scheme of partial repudiation. But it has a color of equity. Erosion of West Virginia into a state drew off one-third of the population and about the same proportion of the taxable property of the old state and hence a strong argument has been founded on the equity of the claim that the old state ought not to pay more than her proportion of the common debt which existed at the time of dissolution. In fact this debt was all created before the war, and West Virginia had had her full share of the benefits of the heavy expenditure that produced it. Upon the school question the Mahone party took he liberal side favoring the enlargement of the school system of the state, and insisting upon the policy of making provision for extension of the privileges of the free school to all classes, white and black.

But the disputes over the state debt and the public school has been only the outward form of the contest. Its real causes have been much deeper. The actual struggle has been between such remnants of ancient custom and privilege, supported by aristocracy and conservatism, as survived the war and a rising demand for progress by new conditions for more progressive action. It was a question whether Virginia should adhere to the old tradition or take a forward step. The people wanted something more than the old tradition could give them, so when they found Mahone breaking away from the democratic party they gladly followed him. The new movement overthrew the democratic party of the state; Mahone has had several years of political ascendancy, and the democratic party itself has been liberalized and given a start toward progress by the movement which it has combatted. In the hope now of winning the state back that party has fully accepted the Mahone platform, though of course it fights Mahone himself as bitterly as ever. Owing to the defection of republican allies Mahone may now be defeated, but the shaking he has given the democratic party in the state has done it and the country an immense and lasting service. No other man has done so much to break up the spirit which has wasted and choked the system of southern politics. This is more than a gain to Virginia; it is a gain to the entire country. Mahone's method probably have been no better than those of his opponents. Some of his purposes may have been even more objectionable than some of theirs. But the good of such a movement is not to be judged by its superficial incidents, but by its general tendency and deeper consequences. If all results were to be rejected except those achieved by unexceptionable methods many a good cause would have a hard time of it.

THE FISH COMMISSION.

A Washington correspondent says that the great success which has attended the exhibits of the United States at the international fisheries exhibition in London has naturally awakened the pride of the officers of the Smithsonian institute, under whose auspices the collection was made and put on exhibition. In the exhibition supplement issued by the Pall Mall Gazette, it says: "The United States section is a department whose importance grows upon the inquiring visitor at every inspection. With its German and Anglo-alike it holds the supreme position in the entire exhibition. The section forms a very flattering manifestation of international courtesy upon the part of the government at Washington, for by far the largest part of the exhibits are from the national museum at Washington and from the storehouses of the United States fish commission—an institution for which it would be rather difficult to find an English counterpart. Of the comprehensiveness and completeness of this really national exhibition it is impossible to speak too highly."

Besides the hatching stations, the commission now has two fine steamships—the Albatross, of 1000 tons, and the Fish Hawk, of 400 tons, each commanded by a lieutenant of the navy. The Albatross has been ordered during the present summer to pursue along the Northern Atlantic coast a deep-sea research for investigation of facts pertaining to the life and habits of sea fish. Every instrument known to modern science that will facilitate this work has been provided. By means of the electric lamp, the last addition to the apparatus, which may be let down into the sea to the depth of four or five hundred feet, deep sea fish are attracted to the surface, when they can be observed in nets. Besides all this she is fitted for every kind of fishing, and good results are expected from her summer cruise. The Fish Hawk, which has been in commission several years, was designed mainly as a floating hatchery, and is now employed in the Chesapeake casting nets around its shoes and getting a statistic of the fish catch of last season. She is also hatching Spanish mackerel and watching the cultivation of the oyster, which bivalve is said to be getting scarce in the waters of the Potomac and Chesapeake.

Great ingenuity has been displayed by the commission this year in the distribution of fish in our inland waters. Carp, shad, salmon, herring or white fish have been sent to nearly every part of the country. Over 200,000 carp have been given to 10,000 applicants; the distribution of young shad this year has reached 15,000,000, and 60,000,000 young white fish have been added to the stock in the great lakes. These, with the trout and salmon deposited in the rivers of the Pacific slope and New England, make nearly one hundred million of fish "planted" by the commission since last spring.

Several schemes are proposed for co-operative telegraphic associations based on large numbers of subscribers and small shares. It is assumed that 100,000 subscribers might be found who would put in $200 each and the result would be a sum that would duplicate every wire or service the Western Union has. These things are simple enough on paper, but experience proves them impossible. In a little time there would be disagreement in the management, as in and cross-suits in motions and counter-injunction, suspension and collapse. Great commercial and financial transactions are never conducted successfully on the co-operative system.

Hitherto the Alaska Commercial Company has paid taxes in San Francisco on "franchises" valued by the assessor at $115,000. The supervisors have now raised the valuation to $1,000,000. The company protests, and may contest, if it can though it says it has no redress but to practically useless legal controversy or removal of its business to some other point on the coast at may be convenient for its operations.

To-day, August 6, a congress whose object it is to recommend to the country measures or protection of forests, will assemble at St. Paul. It is a subject which ought to engage general attention, and nowhere more than in western Oregon and Washington.

There can be no objection to a summer vacation for the nominal mayor of the city. Acting and de facto Mayor Besser can fill the bill.

NAVAL OFFICERS' SOCIAL RIGHTS.

Secretary Chandler, during his brief term as "ruler of Uncle Sam's navee," has startled the blue-jacket world with several odd innovations, the first of which was the issuance of an order prescribing certain fashions and plates illustrating them for the use of tailors engaged in making naval uniforms. For this our American counterpart of Sir Joseph Porter, K. C. B., got gloriously laughed at by the few remaining sea-dogs of the Jemmy Watson stripe and unmercifully scribbled by the newspapers. His second novelty was an order requiring the wives of naval officers to remain at home, and forbidding them from following their husbands to the headquarters or ports of their respective squadrons. At the first blush this would seem to be an act of tyranny, unwarranted by the obligations of the secretary's official oath and wholly at variance with the fair play and right. The wife of a man is a lifelong partner, a republican form of government.

But a second glance at the situation will convince the reader that there is not so much tyranny in the order, after all, and that the needs of the government require a stricter enforcement of discipline than has heretofore existed. The Mediterranean squadron has its headquarters at Nice, the Asiatic at Yokohama and the South Atlantic at Rio de Janeiro. Those places at once become the temporary residences of the captains' wives, engineers' spouses and lieutenants' brides; and there can be no doubt that, in more than one instance, the movements of ships attached to those squadrons have been to a great extent controlled by the presence of the wives of commanding officers. Several occasions of recent date can be cited where vessels which should have been at sea remained in port. But that was merely the beginning of the abuse. Let a vessel arrive in port after a cruise, at a station where the officers' families are residing, and scarcely is the anchor down till every married officer hurries ashore to visit his family, leaving the ship in charge of some ensign or midshipman. In the event of a sudden squall or gale springing up, the vessel is without the presence of a proper executive officer, and things are apt to result in disaster.

It is not expected that under such circumstances as we have just premised there would be much anxiety on the part of commanders stationed in foreign ports (and therefore exempt from department surveillance) to make any undue haste in sailing upon a cruise or to show any desire toward making the cruise longer than practicable. Hence the secretary began the inauguration of a reform by which the money appropriated for keeping vessels at sea shall be expended directly for that purpose and not for maintaining crews in idleness in foreign ports while their officers are ashore at card clubs or lawn parties. There will be less news of Mrs. Captain Thunderbomb's German or Mrs. Lieutenant Bloodrunner's lawn tennis party, in the society columns of our newspapers, under the head of "foreign social notes," and the navy will be the better for it.

And while the secretary's order does seem, at the first glance, to be arbitrary and tyrannical, a second thought will convince the reader that it is not so bad. Only a small portion of any naval officer's life is passed in actual sea duty, in these "piping times of peace;" hence the order cannot be such a great source of hardship to commanders and subalterns. At all events it must certainly result in more active service while vessels are in commission and less junketing and feasting in foreign ports at the expense of taxpayers, whose burdens are great enough as one of the lightest.

J. WM. BUCHANAN.

The "Life of James Buchanan," in two duky volumes, by George Ticknor Curtis (Harpers), is before the country. This laborious work is an apology for Mr. Buchanan, an attempt to clear him from the imputation of irresolution and imbecility at the most critical time in our national history. It fails in this; and yet Mr. Buchanan is not so deeply censured by the country now as he was some years ago, because time, giving a clearer and more dispassionate view of the man, shows that the course he pursued was the consequence of an utter inability on his part to grasp the moral significance of great political movements. With him statesmanship was a matter merely of special pleading, founded on constitutions and precedents. He had no idea that there was any cause of disagreement between the two sections of our country which could not be compromised, and his biographer defends his approval of the Lecompton constitution on the ground that he believed that the admission of Kansas under it would settle every question and give permanent peace to the country! No doubt Mr. Buchanan thought so; and this is to be said in extenuation of the opinion, namely, that very many others eminent in politics were equally unable to see the moral side of the great forces at work in this tremendous conflict. Judgment was darkened by interest; reason was eclipsed by passion; and even cooler men had so long been accustomed to palter with a system that was radically and eternally wrong as to lose sight of natural forces and moral ends in politics and to suppose that flimsy expedients would suffice to settle the greatest of all questions, which nothing but gunpowder would do.

Mr. Buchanan had a conservative greatness born of talent and tact, but no comprehension of great principles. He was the wrong man to be at the helm when the ship of state was dashing into the whirlpool of passion and war. Beyond doubt his feelings were loyal to the union, but he was a worshipper of a paper constitution, and wholly unable to get into the spirit which underlies all constitutions, and gives them all the vitality they have. He did not perceive that the hour for legal technicalities about constitutions had passed away; and so dissension, inaction, irresolution and delay filled the hours. He stuck too much upon the methods and shifts of the lawyer to permit him to take action, and worshipped the dead letter of a constitution instead of acting upon its spirit and seizing the means to keep in the energy of life.

"TURN THE RASCALS OUT."

The Chicago Times, an independent paper, whose general tendencies are democratic, and whose support was given to Tilden in 1876 and to Hancock in 1880, is not convinced of the effectiveness of the cry of the regulation democratic organs—"Turn the rascals out!" It thinks the party would do well to eschew humbugs and hypocrisy, and get itself into a position where it can command the confidence of the country on the merits of its own policy. Following this up, it proceeds to show that of the long list of "rascals" named by the organs, all have been "turned out" except a result which had its parallel in the democratic reign of Pierce and Buchanan. The Times also wants to know what assurance the country would have that the rascals who have been turned out would not forthwith go to any synodics that promised success, and get themselves turned in again. The conclusion is as follows:

> The country is not likely to be fascinated with such a prospect, nor to make choice of what, if there is any teaching in history, would be all possibility be the greatest evil. The leading cry of "Turn the rascals out!" will not serve the democratic syndicate any better than, not so well as, it has served them heretofore. They cannot hope to win by it, and they ought not to. It is only an expression of the very essence of the fraud and the rascality they affect to execrate, dwelling on their own virtues. They must get some other inscription for their presidential battle flag—one that will tell the country clearly, positively, without rubber tape or evasion, what they propose to do when they get it.

Better Not Try.

An English journal, presumably not very well versed as to the dangers attending a feat of swimming like that undertaken by Captain Webb, in which he lost his life, expresses the hope that "Beckwith will retrieve England's reputation," which leads the New York Times to remark:

> Certainly, until reading that no one this side the water was capable of imagining that "England's reputation" was tarnished or that Webb was in any fair sense her champion against the precipices of Niagara. But, since this view of the matter is taken, we trust our authorities will look to it that the "reputation" of our own dear bird is not tarnished by any cockney feats of daring.

So long as given her locks flow free,
And her soft voice sings sweet strains.

Mining Property Recovered.—At the time the diamond robbery was burned a gunny sack was lost, one number of mining claims. It is stated that one of the clerks of that company where the sack was found and it. But when he called to obtain the package, he could not anyone be found who knew anything about it. The loss is for the mining material instrument was, however not abandoned, and last evening Detective Hudson restored the package, a colored carpenter. It had been found stowed away in Mr. ——'s house. Chief of Police Watkins says he knows that it was prescribed by a young lady in his city since the fire.

Fine Wheat.—A specimen of the old favorite "white winter" wheat has been left at the office by Jacob Miller, whose farm is on the Willamette river, Butterville, in Clackamas county. It consists of two stools, or the product of two grains of wheat. One of the branches contains ninety stalks, the other about half that number. The straw is thrifty, and all three lots in sight are crowned with well-developed heads filled with plump kernels, rather smaller than the average yielding of this variety in the valley. Ninety stalks from a single kernel seems a large yield, but instances are on record where several hundred have been produced.

Too Valuable for a Factory.—It is not likely that the Willamette Iron works will build a factory on the block bounded by Third, Fourth, G and H streets, recently purchased by them. Since the property was the property has so increased in value for business purposes that it will pay them better to erect stores thereon and lease them to the retailers of forest for their works. Completion of the Transcontinental Street Railway Company's line on Third and G streets make two sides of the block available for small stores. Verily, Port land is growing fast.

Gone Traveling.—Mr. Lucien Eaton, managing editor of the American Law Register, St. Louis, and for many years registrar in bankruptcy in that district, accompanied by his son, arrived here a day or two since via the Northern Pacific. They are in search of sport and recreation, and leave this morning in company with H. W. Fenthelmer and R. E. Sykes, for Puget Sound. There they will probably also visit Whidby and Hoodsen rivers, and should enjoy some fine fishing during the trip.

Lost a Steam.—Some time since a Scandinavian with an unpronounceable name, which is the occupy of the Union Packing Company, had his finger scratched by a salmon's tooth. Blood poisoning set in, and the efforts of several physicians proved of no avail in checking a cure. Yesterday the member was amputated by Dr. Lane. Fishes men will do well to keep their fingers out of salmon's mouths in future.

Police Court.—A large number of petty criminals were up to receive Judge Moreland's mild sentences yesterday. Wm. Jones was arraigned for the larceny of $25 from a Chinese comedian. His examination was postponed to Aug. 9. Buchanan, charged with larceny of about $5 from his friend, James Colklus, was on trial for several hours and a decision will be reached to-day.

Returned.—Mr. Geo. B. Mallory, the noted electrician, accompanied by three assistants, arrived by the 5:07 o'clock train and is registered at the Esmond. It is said rumored that he comes to superintend the construction of an immense plow or for the Northern Pacific Transit Company at Tilton, also one at Walla Walla and one on Puget Sound.

Grove Meeting.—There will be a grove meeting of Spiritualists held on their grounds at Ninety Eight, Clackamas county, Oregon, beginning Friday, August 8, and holding four days. Arrangements have been made for the accommodating of those who cannot conveniently bring tents and baggage. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Steam Up.—Passengers by last night's Columbia River train report that the regular steamboats of the Utah, Idaho and Oregon Monarch line were blowing whistle coming down the Blue mountains. There were eleven passengers, and none of them were sick by injured, though all were shook up and bruised.

Wedding.—Last evening, Capt. Charles Hughes and Miss Katie Moore were united in the sacred bonds of matrimony at the Catholic cathedral, by the Rev. Father Edward Gibbs. The parents and bride's more immediate friends were present. The happy couple will take command of his vessel for California.

Change of Steamers.—The Queen of the Pacific has gone into the dry dock at San Francisco for repairs, and the Victoria will be substituted for her for one round trip, leaving San Francisco next Saturday, instead of Friday. The Victoria will sail from here on Wednesday, the 15th.

U.S. Circuit Court.—Judge Deady will deliver an opinion in this court this morning, in the case of Myers vs. Reed, upon the demurrer to the bill.

The undersigned hereby acknowledges the receipt of the following interesting: "Thoughts on Daniel" and "Thoughts on Revelation," by Uriah Smith; reprint of Prophecies, three volumes, by Mrs. E. G. White also; volumes by Elder James White, viz.—"Life of Paul" and "Life of Joseph" and "Life of William Miller." The above volumes are a donation to the Portlandmatter's home by the International Tract and Missy society of the Seventh Day Baptists.

A great pressure of duties occasioned an unintentional delay in extending our thanks to this society for this generous gift. The books have been properly stamped and may be found in the book shelves of the Multnomah reading room. Such donations are greatly needed and therefore, earnestly solicited. PLAIN STUBBS.

The Skagit river is very low owing to the light fall of snow in the mountains last winter, and the continued dry weather. The stream is lower than at any similar period for several years past.

The population of Whitman county as enumerated by the assessor is 9164. The number of acres entered upon the assessment roll is [illegible]. Number of acres sown in wheat, 48,965; in oats, 20,539; in barley 3636; in flax, 1669; rye 581; time grass 4178. A government snagboat, for work on the rivers of the lower Sound, is building at Port Madison. It is 110 feet long, 31 feet wide, and will be provided with powerful machinery of capacity sufficient to clear any jam that exists. Carl and McDay & Co are the builders, and the vessel will cost about $10,000. It is stated that the first work to be done by the boat will be done on the Stockwank jam above Lynden, provided the stage of the water is sufficient to admit of navigation that far

Jack Hoskins an old settler who came to Tacoma thirty years ago with the Hudson Bay company, was found dead in his bed on Sunday morning at Hill-hurst. From what can be learned he was in the enjoyment of good health on Saturday night when he retired to bed, though he had been drinking pretty freely. Hoskins was working as a blacksmith at the Grange hall, Hillhurst. As the coroner did not think it necessary to hold an inquest, the cause of his sudden death cannot be learned

A Yakima paper says: There is general complaint among consumers in regard to their inability to obtain farm products here lately, even at advanced prices. Livery stable men are unable to obtain a supply of grain, housekeepers complain of a scarcity of butter, hotel men are often scarce of eggs, vegetables and other supplies and as for chicken they are a luxury seldom seen in these parts. Now farmers, why is this so? Do you not raise such things? If you don't, why not? Are you waiting for a market?

Walla Walla county real estate is assessed at $2,073,000. The total assessment shows an increase of $357,864 over last year. Number of acres assessed, 332,411, and number improved, 122,344. Last year mortgages were assessed and property was appraised at 80 per cent. of its value, while this year mortgages were not assessed and the rate of appraisement was 50 per cent. If we add 14 per cent. to the total appraisement, and at least half a million of mortgages, we find the increase of value about to have been $1,320,363

Yakima Signal: Articles of incorporation were filed last week for a new irrigating company, composed of Daniel M. Drumheller and J. M. Allen of Spokane county, and A. Churchill, J. B. Reavis and Edward Whitson of Yakima. Ludes these articles it is proposed to take water out of the Yakima river at the upper end of the Yakima gap, about half a mile above Bartholet's ferry, and convey it north and east of Selah's mountain, cover the vast region lying between here and Horseshoe bend and supply the surplus into the Yakima at or near that point. The cash capital of the concern is divided into one thousand shares at $10 each, making in all $10,000. A survey of the proposed ditch is to be made at once, and if found to be as feasible a scheme as now believed to be, work will be commenced vigorously at once, and when completed it will add vastly to the population and agricultural wealth of Yakima county, as it will open up a fine agricultural region which is at present wholly unsettled, and unimproved.

On Sunday July 29, the Cummings murderers confined in the jail at Dayton, W. T., had a very narrow escape from death by fire. The Chronicle says one of the guards hung his coat on the wall of the first room and placed his pipe which he had been smoking, in the pocket. In a short time Snodgrass and one of the jailers said they smelt something burning, when search was made and the wall and ceiling, near which hung the coat with the pipe in the pocket, were in flames, which in a moment more would have been beyond control. Fortunately a bucket of water was standing near which by a good throw put out a good part of the fire, and a few more buckets served to extinguish it. In the next room to the hand of the bed hung the shackle keys, without which Mr Benson and Snodderly could not have been freed from their chains which bound them to the floor, unless a chisel had been used and there was nothing of that kind in the jail. If the flames had got two minutes' more of a start, it would have been impossible to have reached the keys and the prisoners would have burned as sure as fate.

MORTGAGE TAX LAW.

SILVERTON Aug 6, 1883.

To the Editor of the Oregonian:

I cannot refrain from giving my opinion of the mortgage tax law. I said when the law was pending before the legislature that as relief law—a one member remarked to me, it was intended to relieve the poor taxpayers by making the rich, and especially the foreign capitalists, pay their full share of the taxes—it would certainly be a failure and I believe it will not and ought not to relieve the poor taxpayers. In the first place the poor pay how much tax? Echo answers how much. The old assessment law that has been on the statute for three [illegible] years is all the law that is necessary if an assessor would assess all property as the law directs. How do assessors do now? They pretend to assess real estate (unless it be in the shape of a mortgage) at about half its value and personal property two-thirds. That is the corner-stone of all the trouble with moneyed men. They do not want to pay more than their share of taxes any more than poor farmers do, and, like the farmers, will get off with just as little as possible. I consider men who will lend money on mortgages to poor men's best friend, especially in this country where land is constantly rising in value. I know many men in this country who have bought good farms that they would not possibly have done if they had not been for the so called foreign capitalists who supplied them with money and took a mortgage on the lands, and now those men are independent except a poll tax and on a few hundred dollars worth of personal property—not enough to compel them to work on the public highways a day over the six two days poll tax. Hence, the injustice of the law that compels the capital of the man who lends the full face of the mortgage and allows the owner of the farm to go free. The farm is often assessed at less than half its value, so the amount was less than one fourth. But you have got the lender of money on mortgage fast now, then, all you have got to do is to call an extra session of the legislature and have them pass a law authorizing the assessor to examine every man's papers, pocketbooks and drawers to see that he gives in all his personal property, also the vaults and safes of banks and stores, and even lawyers offices or even they may still have money, bonds and securities and them make it a crime under penalty of confiscation to assess any property less than its actual value. Then would come the millennium and money would flow in Oregon like water in a rainy season. I think the people, especially the farmers will in less than one year from now wish no such relief law as the mortgage tax law had been enacted, and will ask its repeal. E. D. GEER.

The Crops in Umpqua Valley.

Roseburg Independent

The cutting up is nearly over and threshing has begun in the county. After a careful consultation with farmers from all the different sections we are able to state that the result of the harvest will be above the average. The oat crop is light in some places and much over the average in others. The barley crop is heavier than usual every where and the wheat crop gives better yield than last year. Even the late sown grain which was expected to amount to but little is turning out better than was expected. Many fear the cut was of a size of their grain for hay which the expectation that the crop would be short but the timothy would be nearly up to the average, and will give them a small surplus

TRADE AND COMMERCE.

TUESDAY, Aug 7

Other than the receiving of freight being landed by last night's steamer merchants were not very busy to-day. The call for goods is light and were it not for the eastern section just at this time matters could be called extremely dull. As regards jobbing houses August is seldom a good month. This is caused by harvest operations at which time consumers make trips to their supply points only in the event of urgent necessity. Trade with Puget Sound is temporarily quiet, recent failures there showing the necessity of more caution both in selling and buying. There is every indication of a lively fall trade and general good times as soon as harvest is over

The English grain market to-day shows much strength as compared with last week. New York and Chicago are improved in both tone and price. We are daily receiving shipments of new wheat from eastern Oregon and there is now a fair sized cargo here. Shippers are holding back, being under no pressure to buy and sellers are not satisfied as to opening prices yet

Freights show no change in entire absence of business, but the undertone does not seem so good. Owing to general dullness at San Francisco available wheat vessels are taking lumber freights. Our disengaged fleet is added to by the arrival of the Carrie Winslow, wooden

Agents of standard brands of flour continue to ask and receive quoted values the offering of outside brands seemingly not to affect them

Oats in fair stock but there are few of new crop at hand. Anticipating receipt of new Oregon and lower values jobbers are receiving less California. For old Oregon 2 cents is generally paid

Wool in fair movement for the time. Eastern markets are showing an improved undertone as the outlook for woolen goods is rather better. Manufacturers reduced their output materially this summer in order to ease the market and at the same time save themselves. Now the demand is confidently expected to improve, and factories that have for four months done little or nothing will soon be at work

Chickens irregular and values from day to day are uncertain. Latest sales show a range from $6 to $7 50

Eggs still quoted at 35 cents, but the market is not so firm

Receipts past 24 hours have been 520 bbls flour, 28 563 lbs wool, 408 lbs hides, 45 pkgs eggs 34 bxs fruit 7 bxs butter 24 bls hay, 300 bbls lime. Also 2800 ctls wheat, 37,036 lbs wool from the eastern section

MARVELOUS STORY

TOLD IN TWO LETTERS.

FROM THE SON: "28 Cedar St., New York, Oct. 28, 1882

"Gentlemen: My father resides at Glover, Vt. He has been a great sufferer from Scrofula, and the inclosed letter will tell you what a marvelous effect has had in his case. I think his blood must have contained the humor for at least ten years; but it did not show, except in the form of a scrofulous sore on the wrist, until about five years ago. From a few spots which appeared at that time, it gradually spread so as to cover his entire body. I assure you he was terribly afflicted and an object of pity, when he began using your medicine. Now, there are few men of his age who enjoy as good health as he has. I could easily name fifty persons who would testify to the facts in his case.

Yours truly, W. M. PHILLIPS."

FROM THE FATHER: "It is both a pleasure and a duty for me to state to you the benefit I have derived from the use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Six months ago I was completely covered with a terrible humor and scrofulous sores. The humor caused an incessant and intolerable itching, and the skin cracked so as to cause the blood to flow in many places whenever I moved. My sufferings were great, and my life a burden. I commenced the use of the SARSAPARILLA in April last, and have used it regularly since that time. My condition began to improve at once. The sores have all healed, and I feel perfectly well in every respect—being now able to do a good day's work, although 73 years of age. Many inquire what has wrought such a cure in my case, and I tell them, as I have here tried to tell you, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. Glover, Vt., Oct. 21, 1882. Yours gratefully, HIRAM PHILLIPS"

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA cures Scrofula and all Scrofulous Complaints, Erysipelas, Eczema, Ringworm, Blotches, Sores, Boils, Tumors, and Eruptions of the Skin. It clears the blood of all impurities, aids digestion, stimulates the action of the bowels, and thus restores vitality and strengthens the whole system.

TELEGRAPHIC MATTER.

Our latest correspondence, May 14, 1883, brings to us the narrative of HENRY B. INGRAM, the General Superintendent of the District Messenger Co of New Haven Conn. Mr Ingram says "For many months I had been sorely troubled with a weak and tired feeling across the loins, almost invariably accompanied with a headache. I had noticed also that at stated periods following these primary urine would be highly colored and leaves a heavy brick-colored sediment when allowed to stand in the vessel. I could not work, and I was discouraged to an alarming degree. Nothing helped me. I was prescribed for by some of the best physicians in New York city where I was located at this time but derived no benefit or relief. When almost ready to give up in despair an acquaintance said to me 'I want you to try Hunt's Remedy.' I did so and hardly twenty four hours had elapsed before I had obtained relief and in three weeks time all the aforesaid ailments had disappeared and I jumped as it were readily and was infused with new life, so that I could resume my business again which is one that subjects me to straining of all kinds which are likely to effect the kidneys namely erecting telegraph and telephone lines. Hunt's Remedy is what I consider the most honored place in my cabinet of medicines. I would not be without it and I cheerfully and heartily recommend it to all who are troubled with disease of the liver, kidneys or urinary organs. It never fails to cure.

TOWN CLERK FORTY-TWO YEARS.

The following is from Mr [illegible] GAGER, the well known and respected Town Clerk of Norwich Conn. Mr Gager is 80 years old and has held the position of trust for 42 years and his word is as good as his bond. On May 5, 1883 he writes as follows: "For years I have suffered with disease of the kidneys and bladder and have no hesitancy in recommending Hunt's Remedy as a specific for these complaints. It has not only been the means of relieving me of terrible pains, but has cured a number of my acquaintances. To-day I am performing the duties of the office of Town Clerk which I have held for forty two years which I could not be able to do were it not for a fair state of health, owing to the use of Hunt's Remedy.

PROPOSALS FOR MINERAL OIL.

DEPOT QUARTERMASTER'S OFFICE,

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., August 1, 1883.

SEALED PROPOSALS IN TRIPLICATE, SUBJECT to the usual conditions, will be received at this office until 12 M. on September 1, 1883, at which time and place they will be opened in the presence of bidders for furnishing and delivering at this depot 15,000 gallons Mineral Oil in cases of two 5-gallon cans each. Delivery of the Oil to commence October 1, 1883. Bidders will state the quantities they will make delivery of and how soon they will complete delivery of the entire quantity. Proposals will be received for less quantity of the Oil than herein mentioned. The government reserves the right to reject any or all proposals. A preference will be given to articles of domestic production and manufacture, conditions of quality and price being equal and such preference will be given to articles of American production and manufacture produced on the Pacific coast to the extent of the consumption required by the public service there.

Blank proposals and copies of instructions to bidders and any further information that may be desired will be furnished by this office on application.

A copy of this advertisement should be attached to each bid and mentioned therein as forming a part thereof.

Each bid must be accompanied by a guarantee signed by two responsible persons, to the effect that they undertake that the bidder if his bid be accepted will within thirty days after the opening of proposals will within fifteen days after being notified of such award, him enter into contract to furnish the Oil proposed in accordance with terms of advertisement and notice will give bond with good and sufficient sureties for the faithful and proper fulfillment of the same, and in case the bidder shall fail to enter into contract or award and to him and give good and sufficient bond for its fulfillment the guarantors stipulate and agree that they will pay unto the United States the difference in money between the amount of his bid and the sum for which the United States may contract or procure with another party to supply the Oil required, if the latter amount be in excess of the former.

Envelopes containing proposals should be marked "Proposals for Mineral Oil," and addressed to the undersigned
